

Edict of Blood and Torch

Issued by the Sovereign Court with the approval of the Crown

Art. 1 – Right to Raise

Each Guild permanently resident in a Fiefdom has the right, in case of abandonment, oppression or unworthiness of the Baron, to solemnly proclaim a popular uprising, invoking the right of the People to claim the governance of the land.

Art. 2 – Conditions for Proclamation

Lifting is permissible only if:

1. The Baron is absent or inactive for at least 30 days;
 2. The Baron has violated the Charter, dishonored the Fief or neglected his responsibilities;
 3. The promoting Guild:
 - o Legally resides in the Fief (active license);
 - o Have at least 3 allied guilds involving at least 50 active citizens;
 - o Pour one non-refundable deposit of 200 KingCoin (KGC) to the Treasury of the Kingdom.
-

Art. 3 – Rite of Rising

The declaration of uprising occurs:

- With public posting in the Book of Guilds;
 - With a ceremonial event or tournament (judicial, PvE, PvP, quests, etc.);
 - In the presence of a delegate of the Sovereign Court or the Duke above.
-

Art. 4 – Outcome and Consequences

If Gilda Vince:

- Take control temporary of the Fiefdom for 30 days;
- Can appoint a Popular Regent among its members;
- Gets right to taxes and voice in the Senate for the duration of the government.

If Gilda loses:

- Loses bail;
 - He suffers 15 day ban from all royal activities;
 - Risk a judgment of infamy if guilty of false accusation.
-

Art. 5 – Intervention of the Crown

The King has the power to:

- Canceling a lift if he believes it threatens the balance of the Kingdom;
 - Confirm the People's Regent as a new Baron if the Noble Senate ratifies it.
-

"When fire burns and blood calls, the torch of the people can light the way to power."